

In this update...

- Calendar Invite
- Speaker spotlight
- 5 FREE things to do in Melbourne

Calendar invite: Is 7-11

December marked in your calendar?

Thanks for the great response to our call for registrations for the 3rd International Conference on UV & Skin Cancer Prevention. Delegates are travelling from across the globe to share research, ideas, opinions and innovations. Make sure 7 - 11 December 2015 is marked in your calendar so you don't miss out.

Check out the updated Conference program outline which provides a good overview of each session. The full program schedule will be available online from 23rd September.

Register online before the early

When registering online, you will also be asked if you'd like to attend any of the pre-conference workshops on offer. As workshop numbers are limited, we recommend you register as soon as possible to secure your place in your preferred workshop. Some of the workshops have nearly reached capacity already.

Pre-conference workshops include:

- Review of the UV Index
- Shade
- Advocacy: Winning on solarium bans – insights and the inside story from NSW

bird rate AUD$850 closes on Wednesday, 30 October 2015.

Conference registration includes:

- Opportunity to attend a choice of five pre-conference workshops and an optional lunchtime presentation and lunchtime masterclass during the conference
- Pre-conference drinks
- Full Conference attendance (Includes morning tea, lunch and afternoon tea)
- Free Conference Wi-Fi access
- Conference dinner

Various accommodation options are also available.

Register now

- SunSmart Schools and Early Childhood Program
- Surveillance of skin cancer risk factors
- Cancer Institute NSW Social Marketing Campaign Lunchtime Masterclass
- Centre for Research Excellence in Sun and Health (CRESH) Lunchtime Presentation

For further information regarding the Conference please visit the Conference website and join the Conference twitter conversation at @uvskin2015.

We look forward to you joining us in Melbourne in December.

Regards

Craig Sinclair, Conference Chair

Check out Visit Victoria for suggested travel options around the state.

Speaker spotlight

In the lead-up to the conference we will profile some of the guest speakers.

Dr Gery P. Guy Jr.

“My first project at the CDC examined the health and economic burden of skin cancer. What struck me was not only the substantial burden imposed by skin cancer, but the fact that much of it can be prevented. The opportunity to prevent skin cancer and make a difference continues to drive my work.”

Gery P. Guy Jr., PhD, MPH, is a health economist in the Division of Cancer Prevention and Control’s Epidemiology and Applied Research Branch. Dr. Guy’s areas of research include health insurance, health care access and utilization, cost of illness, and cost effectiveness. Dr. Guy has led research projects examining the economic burden of skin cancer, indoor tanning in the United States, the economic burden of cancer survivorship, and the costs and cost-effectiveness of colorectal cancer screening.

Dr. Guy received his undergraduate degree from the University of Rochester, a master of public health in health policy from the Rollins School of Public Health at Emory University, and a doctorate in health services research and health policy contributes to drive my work.

with a concentration in economics from Emory University. In 2013, he completed a two-year postdoctoral fellowship in Prevention Effectiveness at CDC. He is a recipient of the CDC Steven M. Teutsch Prevention Effectiveness Fellowship Outstanding Fellow Award.

Dr. Sara Gandini

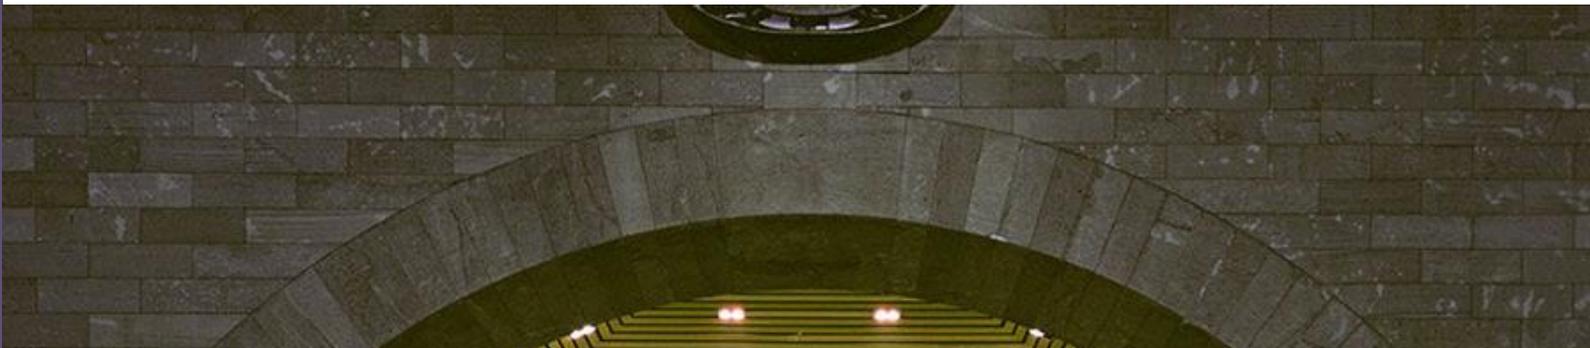

Sara provides constant consultation in a wide range of areas including statistical design of experiments and clinical trials, protocol development, analysis of data and interpretation of results.

Sara has conducted extensive research in cancer epidemiology, including systematic reviews and meta-analyses. In the last years her main interest has been in melanoma

Dr Sara Gandini has a degree in Statistics (110 cum laude, University of Bologna, Italy), an MSc in Biometry (University of Reading, UK) and a PhD in Cancer Studies (University of Birmingham, UK). She is a senior investigator (vice-director) at the division of Epidemiology and Biostatistics, at the European Institute of Oncology in Milan (Italy).

epidemiology and on the role of Vitamin D in cancer epidemiology. She is the lead organizer of a multicentre Italian trial on Vitamin D supplementation for melanoma patients and a trial on Vitamin D and microbiota for colorectal cancer.

5 FREE things to do in Melbourne

1. National Gallery of Victoria

3. Royal Botanic Gardens

5. Fitness classes at Fed Square

Where: Corner of

Where: NGV

International: 180 St.
Kilda Road, Melbourne
(Wednesday - Monday
10am-5pm)

What: Houses an extensive collection
from Europe, Asia,
America, and Oceania

Where: The Ian Potter
Centre: NGV Australia
Federation Square
(Tuesday- Sunday
10am-5pm)

What: The home of Australian art, presenting Indigenous

Gardens

Where: Birdwood Ave,
Melbourne

When: 7:30am to
sunset- all year round

What: An inner-city
oasis, filled with more than 10,000 plant species that are presented in a kaleidoscope of colour
and texture, sweeping
lawns, tranquil lakes
and majestic trees.

Don't forget to watch out for Melbourne's bats!

Where: Corner of

Swanston & Flinders
Streets,
Melbourne

When:

- Tue: 6pm – 6.45pm
- Wed: 7am – 7.45am
- Fri: 7am – 7.45am

What: Led by health
coaches and fitness instructors from Healthy Lifestyle Lounge, the classes are designed to help city workers keep fit and healthy. Classes include circuit-based exercise
that incorporates body

and non-Indigenous art from the colonial period to the present day. Please note: Some exhibitions are ticketed.

2. Tropfest 2015

Where: Various locations around Melbourne

When: Monday 7 December from 8.30pm

What: Tropfest is Australia's most prestigious short film festival and one of its most iconic cultural

4. The Shrine of Remembrance

Where: Corner of Birdwood Avenue and St Kilda Road, Melbourne

When: 10am - 5pm daily (Guided tours: 11am and 2pm daily)

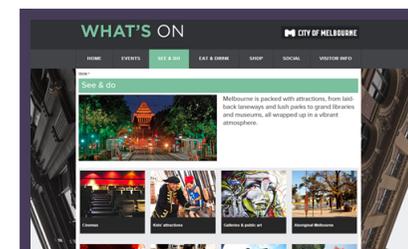

What: Melbourne's most iconic building, the Shrine is Victoria's memorial to the men and women who have served Australia in armed conflicts and weight exercises, cardio training and core strength movements.

All ages and fitness levels welcome.

For further information on what to see and do in Melbourne visit the City of Melbourne's 'What's on' page.

events. It is also the largest short film festival in the world.

peacekeeping operations throughout our nation's history.

uvandskincancer2015.org

Sponsors

Partners

FORWARD

Follow us on Twitter @uvskin2015

Unsubscribe

SunSmart, Cancer Council Victoria